

Exceptional News

Izzy is Found after Wildfire

By Janet Giel-Romo, Ed.D.

Copyright 2015 All Rights Reserved
Austin and Lily Solutions
Photo credit: licensed from Shuttersock.com
www.austinlily.com

Santa Rosa, CA: The California Wildfires burned for a few weeks. A lot of houses burned down.

People had to leave their homes because the fire was nearby.

Some people had pets that they could not find. They had to leave their burning homes without them.

The veterinarians in California are busy taking care of cats and dogs that got hurt in the fire.

Many of the families are very sad that their pets died in the wildfire. When the fire was over, two men went back to find their mother's dog, Izzy. Izzy is a 9-year-old dog. They were afraid that Izzy had died in the fire.

When the men got to the house, they were so surprised. Izzy ran over to them. They could not believe it! Izzy was alive!

They called Izzy's owner, Katherine. They told her that Izzy was ok. She was so excited!

Many people lost their pets in the California wildfires. Finding Izzy alive was good news!

