Page 3: A lot of the people who live in Puerto Rico are poor. They don't have enough money to buy things that they need. A poor person might not have a car or enough food to eat. Poor people can not afford to spend money on pets. That means that they can't spend their money on pet food because they need to use their money to buy things that they need. Sometimes people say, "I can't afford that". It doesn't always mean that the person is poor. For example, I am not poor, but I can't afford to buy a mansion! I can afford dog food. People who are poor can't afford dog food. See the picture of the cat? That cat needs help. The people in Puerto Rico don't have enough money to help that cat. It is sick. When people have enough money for pets, they take a sick pet to the vet. Look at the dog. It is hungry. It is too skinny.

If it is sick, no one takes it to the vet. If it is hungry, no one feeds it. Stray means that the animal has to take care of itself. It is an animal that is supposed to be a pet, but no one owns it. It is not a wild animal. Many people are too poor to take care of dogs. Stray dogs look for food on the ground and in garbage cans.
