

Exceptional News

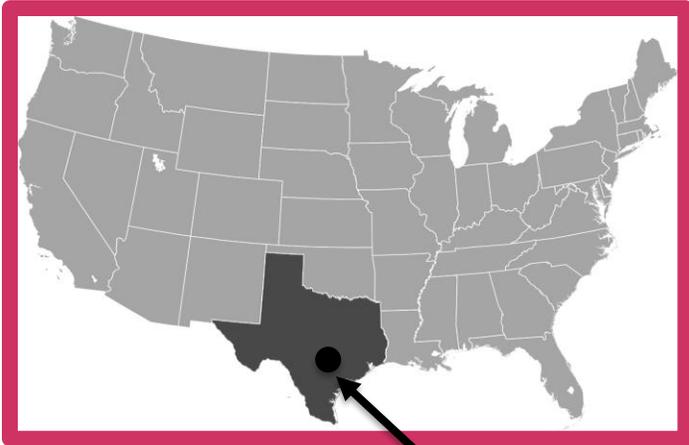

Bat Festival

By Janet Giel-Romo, Ed.D.

Copyright 2018 All Rights Reserved
Austin and Lily Solutions
Photo credit: Shutterstock license.
www.austinelily.com

Austin, Texas

Austin, TX-A million bats live in Austin, Texas in the summer.

The bats sleep under a bridge in Austin, Texas.

The bats wake up at the end of the day. They fly out from under the bridge.

There is a Bat Festival on August 18th. People go to see the bats.

People want to see the bats fly out from under the bridge. Some people stand on the bridge.

Some people take a ferry boat tour.

AzriSuratmin / Shutterstock.com

WoodysPhotos / Shutterstock.com

There is food at the festival. People can buy something to eat.

VM.Shpilka / Shutterstock.com

People wear bat costumes. The Bat Festival is fun!

The bats leave Austin for the winter. They fly south. They come back when it is warm.

Copyright 2018 All Rights Reserved
Austin and Lily Solutions
www.austinlily.com